

"Discovering the Treasures of Lebanon & Exemplary Private Residences"

Organized by
Pamela Huntington Darling, Exclusive Cultural Travel Programs

Sunday, June 3 to Saturday, June 9, 2012

6 days and 6 nights

Following the success of last year's unprecedented, private tour to Lebanon, acclaimed the "Paris of the East", renowned for its unparalleled heritage, culture and warm hospitality, priding spectacular UNESCO World Heritage archeological sites, I am pleased to propose this exclusive program of private visits and receptions with prominent officials, hosts, and experts.

A unique cultural destination, with 6,000 years of history, one of the oldest, continuously inhabited countries in the world, Lebanon is rich in diverse cultural heritage of the civilizations that have left their inimitable imprint. Lebanon also prides breathtaking natural beauty, where mountains slope to meet the Mediterranean Sea, and where valleys dotted with rivers and forests are abundant.

During six extraordinary, inspirational days and evenings, our unrivaled tour will offer participants expert-guided visits to legendary sites, some inaccessible to the public, erected during the Phoenician, Greek, Roman, Umayyad, Crusader, and Ottoman periods, superbly preserved, as well as momentous sites of 18th to 21st century architecture.

We will be privileged guests of distinguished international hosts—prominent members of the community and private collectors, leading architects, artists, and interior designers—for luncheons, cocktail receptions and dinners in outstanding private residences and palaces—not open to the public—housing the highest level of architecture, décor, and rare and extensive collections of art.

During our once-in-a-lifetime discovery of Lebanon, 6 extraordinary days and 6 nights, we will reside at the 5-star luxury Hotel Le Gray in Beirut, offering a remarkable Spa and all the amenities of 5-star European hotels: pure luxury, relaxation, and splendid décor, surroundings and views, fine cuisine, hospitality to perfection, as well as high-speed Internet and Wi-Fi access.

This exclusive tour is designed for discerning travelers, enthusiasts of emblematic historical and contemporary sites, admirable residences housing remarkable décor and art, seeking a unique cultural experience, including personal encounters and exchanges with experts and leading members of the Lebanese community.

Pamela Huntington Darling, specializing in organizing inimitable cultural programs, welcomes you to join us for this memorable tour.
